How Can You Hinder Her Love For Learning With BORING...

...When There’s a BETTER Way?

www.queenhomeschool.com
Welcome to the Queen Homeschool Supplies catalog for 2017 - 2018

Queen Homeschool Supplies, Inc. was founded in 1994 by Keith and Sandi Queen and our children. Our six children, who have all grown up along with our business, are our most valuable employees, and know the business inside-out.

From the beginning, we set out to establish ourselves as a unique homeschool publisher. We have been using the methods of Charlotte Mason for many years, and have seen many benefits of doing so. We have also seen the need for curriculum and educational materials that fit into this method. This has become one of our “specialty niches,” as we have determined to publish materials that will make it easy for any family wishing to implement the Charlotte Mason method into their homeschooling. We have also taken up the task of reprinting some of the old treasures recommended by Charlotte Mason herself, even using some as the basis for a Charlotte-style curriculum.

Many families have told us that they are burned out, or that their children are bored to tears by following traditional classroom curriculum available to homeschoolers, until they find the more natural, more enjoyable method in the Charlotte Mason style. This method is one that will allow you to enjoy teaching your children - all ages together - and give them a lifelong love of learning. This year, you will find new products in the different series we publish, as well as some other unexpected surprises. If you’ve been “with us” long enough, you are aware of the health issues we’ve faced through the years, and the fact that this has been the catalyst for Sandi to become a Doctor of Naturopathy. We also own and operate The Holistic Wellness Center next to our book warehouse. Visit it online at sandiqueenholisticwellness.com, where you can check out the many services offered. We see many families from all over the country make the trip to our little spot on the PA/WV border as wellness center clients. As licensed healthcare professional, we are now able to offer many professional grade only health products, which are sold in our wellness center. After much testing and working out importation issues, we are also pleased to offer our own brand of organic, therapeutic grade essential oil blends, singles, skin care, and oral care products, the Essential Vitality® line, which you can find under the Natural Health section of our website.

You’ll find “mini-articles” throughout the catalog, explaining the different elements of a Charlotte Mason style education, as well as materials to teach each subject using this method. The materials we write and publish are those we have used with our own children. Check out our FAQs at www.queenhomeschool.com or give us a call at 724-447-2034 between 9 AM & 4 PM EST Monday through Friday. We look forward to serving you again this year.

My First Pets Phonetic Readers $9.95 per set of 5 paperbacks
Written for our daughter, Haley when she was just getting the hang of reading, but there were no books out there that were truly phonetic and simple enough for her as a very beginning reader. These simple little books are not just a collection of short vowel words, but cute little stories that your child will want to read over and over as he masters the art of reading and becomes ready to move on to more challenging books. The series of five paperbacks includes stories about five different animals, and the mischief they get into around the farm.

Little Ladies Series by Sandi Queen
This series of picture books for young girls explains through conversation between a mother and daughter why conservative Christians hold to certain biblical convictions, sharing from the Scriptures (KJV). Paperback. $3.95 each.

Little Ladies: Dressing for God
Little Ladies: Speaking to Please God
Little Ladies: Keeping Myself Pure for God

Little Leaders Series by Sandi Queen
Introduce your young boys (and girls) to these important biblical truths through picture books that are geared toward their level. Illustrations throughout enhance the conversational stories. All Scripture used is KJV. Paperback. $3.95 each.

Little Leaders: Standing for the King James
Little Leaders: A Witness for Christ
Little Leaders: Guarding My Eyes

The Boy and the Rose by Sandi Queen, illustrated by Breezy Bookshire
This parable of a boy seeking a pure rose for his mother presents the importance of physical purity to young children in a gentle way that they can understand. A precursor to future conversations between parent and child, this story presents a much-needed discussion. $5.95

The Blossoming Rose: A Story for Young Ladies by Sandi Queen
A story for girls from 10 to 14, explains the emotional changes that take place (physical changes are covered in, "From Girl... to Woman") when becoming a woman. $8.95

Amazing Abby - A Story of Living Out God’s Plan by Sandi Queen with Abby Smith

“As long as He gives me breath, I want to be shining brightly for Him and helping those who are hurting to experience the love He has for them. This is the one life I get to live. The only thing that matters is how I live it to glorify my Creator, Savior, and King, Jesus Christ.” – Abby Smith

The true story of how one young lady learned to lean on Christ during the most difficult trials, find Him able to uphold her in the palm of His hand, walk with her through the valleys, and help her to see His purpose through suffering. Abby’s story will inspire anyone going through trial to realize that though we may only see suffering, God has a plan. In her words, “If I would have only taken it one day at a time, one hour, only one minute at a time, and put my complete trust in Christ...” There’s a lesson here for each of us. Though the content may be difficult for some children to handle, this would be a great read aloud and discussion book. $9.95

“How can I teach my children good table manners?”
We designed this game with YOU in mind! Well, actually, we designed it out of our own desperation. Many years ago, when our three daughters were still ill-mannered at the dinner table, we found ourselves dealing with this same problem. After much thought and effort, the original version of this game was born, and put into immediate use. What a fun, and funny time we all had, learning good table manners and behaviors! The game was so effective, that it was eventually retired to a back shelf in a kitchen cabinet, as we did not need it any more. Then we had three boys. There were many threats by frustrated sisters to bring the “manners game” back out, until finally, Mom sat down and revised the original game into an easy-to-play version that would work with any family—even ours! We’ve laughed through many a meal since then, improving our manners with every meal. We’ve even played when company was present. The game was so well received that one young man who had been a frequent dinner guest at our table even REQUESTED that we play “the manners game” after our family had “graduated.” Included are laminated (spill-proof!) cards for 8 players, for 2 levels of play. Your family will have a great time playing this game at mealtimes, until the long-awaited day arrives when they won’t need it any more - making the entire family the winner of the game! Manners for Mealtimes...

“...The manners game is also a top pick! I love your website and products!” - Kristi

Communication! A Communication Tool to Get Families Talking
Ever feel like your family needs some help to get the ball rolling in communicating? This simple tool is for you! These cards are a tool for you to use as you wish. Our recommendation: After family devotions, at the dinner table, or whenever your family is gathered together, have a different person each day choose a card. The person who chooses the card chooses one of the “Communication Activities” on that card, and reads it aloud. Then, in turn, each person in the family takes a turn sharing whatever that “Communication Activity” suggests, until all have taken a turn. Used in this manner, each card will contain three days’ worth of “Communication Activities,” totaling 90 different activities in all. For all ages, reusable. Communication....$6.95
BIBLE STUDIES

For Elementary Aged Children
By Michelle Zoppa, with Amanda Lane

These easy-to-use studies, designed for ages 6-12, will be a blessing to your family. To use them, you'll need a dictionary, a Bible (we recommend KJV), and a copy of the chosen study for each student, as they are consumable.

God's Armor: Suited for Life by Michelle Zoppa and Amanda Lane
The Bible tells us as Christians in Ephesians 6:11 to “Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.” This 12 week study takes the elementary boy or girl through the various aspects of how we can preserve our character and grow closer to the Lord by putting on His Armor daily. A must for any parent wanting to protect their child from the evils of the world and equip them to fight the good fight for the Lord! $16.95

Increasing In Wisdom
King Solomon penned the book of Proverbs as a “training in wisdom for life” course for his own son. In this study, your child will take a tour through the book of Proverbs, studying and comparing many different character traits - wisdom vs. foolishness, diligence vs. laziness, wise speech vs. poor speech, humility vs. pride, a merry heart vs. anger, generosity vs. greed, honesty vs. deceit, disciplined vs. undisciplined, and many more. This consumable study is one that every young person should have the opportunity to benefit from. $16.95

An Honorable Boy: A Bible Study for Elementary Aged Boys
Through studying the lives of various men in the Bible - Jonathan, Timothy, Joshua, Abraham, Noah, and others - your sons will learn the meaning of honor, why it’s important to obey and listen to instruction, how to work hard and be diligent, why to be generous, to not be selfish and self-centered, how to have good manners, how to be joyous and content, why to be studious and eager to learn, how to be honest and trustworthy, how to put their trust in God, and more. This study is a 12-week daily course. $16.95

A Virtuous Girl: A Bible Study for Elementary Aged Girls
Using the Virtuous Woman of Proverbs 31 as a model, your daughters will study the character traits needed to become virtuous girls through looking at the lives of various women of the Bible who were exemplary in character. The perfect mother-daughter study, this 12-week course also makes a great study for a young girl to do alone, as it is written directly to the child, or for a group. $16.95

"GREAT!!! One of our favorite Bible studies! This was great for multiple ages and brought about some of the BEST conversations about right and wrong!"

The Nature Study Idea Book for All Ages

by Mary Woodis

From a Christian perspective, Mary Woodis, a modern-day naturalist, looks at every area of nature study in depth. There are sections on plants, animals, birds, insects, rocks, stars, weather, and much more.

They are hard-hitting, life-changing studies that will challenge a child's heart to live completely for the Lord. Using the King James Version of Scripture and a dictionary, these conversationally written studies need no parental involvement - though they also make great studies to do during family devotions or with a group. Consumable, each person doing the study needs his own book.

Blessed Are Ye: A Bible-Based Study of the Beatitudes for Youn Adults

As Christians, most of us have read the Beatitudes many times, but have never really taken the time to study what each one is saying. We can see on the surface that we will be blessed if we live according to Jesus' teachings, but exactly what does it mean to hunger and thirst after righteousness, or to be meek, or poor in spirit? Why are those who mourn considered blessed? This study digs deeply into what Jesus was talking about, and the meaning of what "being blessed" is all about. 52 pages, consumable. $19.00

"Opening The Nature Study Idea Book is like opening a treasurebox!" - Alicia D

Following After Charity: A Bible-Based Study for Young Adults

Based on 1 Corinthians 13:1-8 The Bible tells us in 1 Corinthians 14:1 to "follow after charity." But what does this mean? Charity, the greatest of the three main Christian virtues, means, in the simplest of terms, unconditional, Christlike love. How can we, as followers of Jesus Christ, show forth His love to a lost and dying world? How can our daily behavior toward others show Christ's love for them? This is a study that has the potential to change not just the life of the user, but of everyone you come in contact with, as they see Christ's love manifested in your life. Consumable. $16.95

Our nature drawing course is easy-to-use by all ages, non-consumable, and beautiful. The instruction in this book pays attention to so many little details, and includes step-by-step drawings of many different creatures and much Jesus Christ loves him, as well as an appreciation of what was done for him on the cross. What objects that you'll find right outside your window. The following is a love-driven study in how to give your all to Christ, honor Him with your life, and apply biblical truths, as well as look at examples from the Scriptures of how NOT to live to please the Lord. This course, based on Romans chapter twelve, takes the student through a comprehensive study of how we are to walk as true followers of Jesus Christ. What is our "reasonable service" as Christians? What does it mean to present our bodies "a living sacrifice" to God? How can we continue to live in today's world and still "touch not the unclean thing?" What is His will for our lives, and how can we follow it? These are just some of the things that will be the focus of study in this course. Consumable, $16.95

To Know the Love of Christ: A Bible-Based Study for Young Adults

This interactive study uses God's Word to take the student (upper junior high & older) through a study on what the Bible has to say about how we should apply God's standard for purity to all areas of our lives. Addresses purity of heart, thought, appearance, speech, lust, flirting, dating, music, movies, magazines, & much more. Much more than just a "don't do this because I said so" book, this book will show your child why certain things are wrong for Christians. For boys and girls. Consumable. $16.95

The Standard of Purity: A Backyard Nature Drawing Guide

This interactive study uses God's Word to take the student (upper junior high & older) through a study on what the Bible has to say about how we should apply God's standard for purity to all areas of our lives. Addresses purity of heart, thought, appearance, speech, lust, flirting, dating, music, movies, magazines, & much more. Much more than just a "don't do this because I said so" book, this book will show your child why certain things are wrong for Christians. For boys and girls. Consumable. $16.95

Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.
An Excellent Spirit: A Bible-Based Study for Young Adults
The prophet Daniel was a man of great character that we all can learn from. What was it about this young man that made him “purpose in his heart” to serve God at any cost? Why did God choose to show this man visions of futuristic events? What caused him to be known for his “excellent spirit,” “full of knowledge and understanding?” What about him caused “dissolving of doubts” about God in the eyes of those around him? This study will show your student, ages ten through adult just what made Daniel’s character so purposeful - and in the process, challenge him to live his own life in a way that will develop an excellent spirit, wholly pleasing to God. Consumable. $16.95

The Standard of Modesty: A Bible-Based Study for Young Ladies
One look around you in any public place will tell you that there is a need for a return to God’s standards. This study, for young ladies ages 12 - adult, tackles the issue of modesty from the Bible. Students will dig deeply into God’s Word to see what He has to say about modesty in all areas of our lives - the way we speak, act, dress, present ourselves, & more. Gives a clear understanding of how God’s standards differ from the world’s. May be used alone, with mother & daughter or in a group setting. Consumable. $16.95

Spiritual Leadership: A Bible-Based Study for Young Men
The job of spiritual leader is a God-ordained position for EVERY Christian man. How are you preparing your son? This study, for young men ages 12 through adult, takes the user through the Bible & looks at what God has to say about manhood and spiritual leadership, and how to apply God’s principles. No matter what profession your son chooses, the spiritual leadership of his future household is one position he is sure to hold. Make sure he has a firm foundation & commitment to the task, that he might be ready to commit to this position. Consumable. $16.95

Fishers of Men: A Tool for Training to Become a Soulwinner
If you are a Christian, bought by the blood of Jesus Christ, then this course is for you. Jesus commands us in Mark 16:15 to “Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature.” Who was Jesus talking to when he said this? His disciples – His followers. Today, those words speak to you and me. Soulwinning, witnessing, or leading someone to Christ, is not a suggestion. The words of Jesus Christ in this verse are a COMMAND. This easy to use course is laid out in 132 lessons, which will use an effective method of sharing the Gospel with the lost as a base to teach and practice for mastery in the main points, verses, illustrations, and tips to produce a fruitful soulwinner. Some lessons may take more than one day to complete, making this a course that can last for an entire school year if desired. Written for all ages, starting with the advanced elementary student through adult. Consumable, perfect bound paperback. $19.95

ANIMAL AUTOBIOGRAPHIES
A captivating collection of fictional stories that give a real-life look at the day-to-day life of different animals. Reprinted from the early 1900s, these classic stories are written from each animal’s perspective, and give an accurate portrayal of what daily life is truly like for that animal through endearing, firsthand accounts. We love these books! They are wonderful read-alouds for all ages. Even our little ones will sit and listen to the stories (there are no pictures, except a few in a couple of the books). They are chapter books, perfect for reading a chapter each day for school time, or before bed each night. The books, because they are done in story form, will hold the interest of any animal lover; while there is much factual information woven throughout each book as the animal tells about going about his day. In paperback. Choose from:

- Bear Brownie: The Life of a Bear
- Master Reynard: The History of a Fox
- Scamp: A Dog’s Own Story
- Jackie Hightree: The Adventures of a Squirrel
- Kitty Purrpuss: The Memoir of a Cat
- Wee Willie Mousie: Life from His Own Viewpoint

$9.95 each

“My kids just LOVE, LOVE, LOVE the ‘Animal Autobiographies’ series’ depictions of what animal life is like, in attention-grabbing stories. THANK YOU for making these available for the children of today.” - Sara M.

“Such an incredibly realistic picture of animal life! My kids loved this series!” - Lynne D.
Parables From Nature by Kiley Queen, Stories by Margaret Gatty
This course for upper elementary through jr. high students delves into nature through biblical parables. Using the stories written by Mrs. Margaret Gatty in 1851 for her own seven children (which were recommended by Charlotte Mason herself), each of the 28 parables is a starting point for lessons that follow. Your student will study butterflies, bees, birds, sea creatures and plants, phases of the moon, flowers, marshes and their creatures, quicksand, insects, trees, the water cycle, weather, wind, turtles, cats, dust, altitude, and more through the reading of living Christian parables, researching, writing, nature sketching, hands-on activities, and more. Each book is consumable, giving your student a treasure of his finished work when he reaches the end of the course. $34.95

Summer By the Sea (high school biology) by Sandi Queen, Story by Lindsey Narmour Moser
A full year of high school biology, Charlotte Mason style! Based on a story about a group of siblings visiting their older, married sister in New England and corresponding lessons in biology, everything your high school student needs to learn on this subject is taught in a conversational, enjoyable way, and from a Christian, creationist perspective. Includes further research, writing, hands-on activities and experiments and more. Don’t be afraid of high school science any more! This course teaches directly to the student in a manner that will grab and hold his attention. $34.95

“This is my kids’ favorite science program EVER, in 17 years of homeschooling. I think it’s safe to say, we won’t be switching again! We LOVE the Discovering Nature series!” - The Jones Family, NJ

Further Investigation (high school chemistry) by Lindsey Narmour Moser
A complete high school chemistry course based on a living book – divisi the story of a forensic detective and her sickly younger brother. Each week, there is a chapter in the ongoing story, which introduces chemistry concepts for that week’s lessons, including further research, hands-on activities, experiments, writing, and more. A truly Charlotte Mason style high school chemistry curriculum! 233 pages, $34.95

Behold the Heavens (high school physics & astronomy) by Lindsey Narmour Moser
This high school course combines physics and astronomy, taught through introductions given throughout the storyline, which follows a physics professor and astronomy buff whose blind young relative comes to live with him. Through experimentation, further research, and other activities, your high school student will not only see the correlation between these two subjects, he’ll have a greater appreciation for the Creator. $34.95

Every Herb Bearing Seed (health & natural medicine) by Dr. Sandi Queen, N.D.
Many high schoolers and adults have done this course. The storyline follows the daily life of homeschool high school student Sam as he goes to work part time for a local Doctor of Naturopathy as her learning assistant. Learn about nutrition, exercise, herbs, homeopathy, essential oils, probiotics, organic vs. conventional foods, and much more as you read, research, and do hands-on activities. $34.95

MY BIBLE READING NOTEBOOK
By Sandi Queen
A consumable, comb-bound notebook that holds a year’s worth of entries, this notebook was developed when we were going through a weekly discipleship course many years ago. We saw the huge benefit from recording our thoughts during each day’s Bible reading, to force us to look more deeply into the Scriptures. “My Bible Reading Notebook” was developed for our family to use much in this same way, though with more detail. Each day, as you read your Bible, you enter into your “My Bible Reading Notebook” which portions of Scripture you read, how God spoke to you through that day’s reading, what it was about; etc. There is also a place each day to record prayer requests and answered prayers. A wonderful resource to help your children get more out of their daily Bible reading and also see how the Lord is working in their lives, this tool is also great for adults.

Multiple cover choices.

$9.95 each

Our Animal Friends by Kiley Queen
This volume, geared toward elementary students who are reading fluently, follows the story of young Taylor, who lives next to her uncle, a veterinarian. As different animals come to see him, Taylor learns all about cats, dogs, pet birds, guinea pigs, rabbits, hamsters, goats, horses, cows, turtile, snakes, and other common pets and farm animals. The daily activities or worksheets incorporate further reading, researching, nature drawing, and hands-on activities. Consumable, spiral bound. $34.95

OBSERVING HISTORY through PICTURE STUDY

This exciting series highlights 10 full color, quality reproductions of period paintings by great masters who lived during the time in which the paintings were completed. Not just another collection of artwork, however, the paintings featured are those which reflect everyday life during the time in which they were painted.

The perfect compliment to your history program, giving the visual component that is often lacking when using the Charlotte Mason method of reading living books for history, the packs in this series will also work well with any other style of history program you wish to use with your children.

The accompanying study guide features short biographies on each artist, information about each painting chosen and assignments for further study, as well as specific additional paintings you may wish to study.

Enjoy bringing full color history to life for your students of all ages as you implement this series into your school day. Non Consumable. $16.95 Each

THE STUDENT PLANNER
A Daily Planning and Organizing Tool for Every Student by Sandi Queen

Welcome to a less stressful and more organized homeschool year! This is a resource I developed for my own children to keep them organized and focused as they did their daily schoolwork. MANY NEW COVER DESIGNS THIS YEAR!

How to use The Student Planner: You will find three kinds of pages in this book:

1. The checklist pages – these are the pages that have column headings saying “subject” and the days of the week. Under the column for “subject,” list each subject that you will be doing for school this year, one under the other. Each day, when you complete that subject, check it off in the square for that day next to the listing for that subject. This will help you to easily see which subjects you have finished for the day, and which subjects you have left to do. It will also let your parent know what you have finished.

2. The “notes” pages – these are essentially blank pages for you to use to list special projects that you want to work on, things you want to remember, appointments or events, and such. You can use these pages for whatever you want. You may want to use them to write reminder notes to yourself, such as “get book about snakes from the library today,” or “study for test today,” or “leave an encouraging note for Mom today.”

3. The “log list” pages at the back are for you to keep track of any reading materials, educational dvds, etc., that you have used this year. This book is a resource book for you, to help you organize your day, as well as a help to your parent, who may be busy teaching several children, to help him or her see when each child has completed each subject. Be diligent in using it every day! We have made The Student Planner available in a variety of different covers so you can choose one that suits your personality, and so that each child in the family can have his own easily identifiable planner. These books are consumable, so you’ll want one for each school-aged child. For all ages. Choose from: Top and middle, left to right: America, Ocean, Window, Strings, Daisy, Kitten, Horse. Bottom Row: Island, Fence, Nest, Dog $9.95 each

GOD’S PLAN FOR GROWING UP SERIES
These paperback booklets tackle those “difficult” topics gracefully, and from a conservative Christian perspective. Mary Pride calls them “one of the best! With a practical and sensitive approach, from a Christian point of view ... provides great tips and encouragement, while avoiding certain “details” present in other guides of this sort.” These books were written for our own six children because we could not find anything suitable on the market. The first two books, From Girl ... to Woman! and From Boy ... to Man! are appropriate at the parent’s discretion, before puberty, so a child can know what to expect and how it fits into God’s plan. The rest of the series is for when the child can understand how the first two books (depending upon gender) fit into God’s plan for their lives, and what will happen afterwards. The books that follow may be used from that age upwards, as you feel appropriate. Some use them as young as eight, though I prefer to wait until age eleven or twelve, depending upon the child. It is not just the “laying out of the facts” that are presented; you also want the child to be old enough to understand that the changes of puberty are a GIFT from God, and all a part of His wonderful plan for their lives. Just $3.95 each. Also available as ebooks at queenhomeschool.com

Book #1: From Girl ... to Woman! God’s Plan for the Marvelous Changes that Will Take Place!
Book #2: From Boy ... to Man! God’s Plan for the Marvelous Changes that Will Take Place!
Book #4: Baby! God’s Gift for Married Couples
Book #5: Spiritual Leadership: A Guide for Young Men
Book #6: Questions for a Potential Suitor: Getting to Know the Heart of a Young Man Before Marriage

An extensive list of questions to ask a potential suitor, a must for parents of daughters, but also a preparatory tool for sons. Asking these important questions will let you know where a young man stands on major issues that should be addressed before marriage.

"Your 'God's Plan for Growing Up' books were just what we needed to present life's important topics to our children - the perfect amount of information, presented in such a godly way. THANK YOU from our whole family." - A Thankful Mom in California

"I purchased the booklet From Girl... to Woman! several years ago for my daughters. It is by far the most gentle approach to dealing with the changes that occur during puberty. We still have the books and my daughter, now 15, wants to save them to use with any daughters that she may have." - Sonja W.

ON LANGUAGE ARTS

The Charlotte Mason approach to the language arts consists of four levels:

Level 1: Reading Aloud

This is as simple as it sounds! Simply read to your child! But, there are important things to remember here. First, you want to be certain to expose your child to a wide variety of literature. While simple little paperback storybooks that you will find in the grocery store are fine occasionally, this should not be the bulk of your child's reading experiences. Search for books that will stretch your child in every way - read about different countries, cultures, and people. Both fiction, which will stretch his imagination, and nonfiction, which will stretch his knowledge, are recommended. With even young children, try reading a chapter from a book that is not a picture book every night. While picture books are fine, a book without pictures encourages the child to think more creatively by creating his OWN pictures in his mind as you read aloud to him! Even my little ones have sat and listened, wide-eyed, to books from our “Living History Readers” series, Bear Brownie: The Life of a Bear, and the “Young Men of Valor” or “Young Ladies of Virtue” series.

Level 2: Narration

Narration is such a simple, yet powerful tool that is so often overlooked in favor of its more traditional, boring counterpart. Narration means simply “to tell back.” So many times, people follow the classroom approach, and buy a classroom-designed “reader” book of stories, read a story daily to their child (or have the child read it), and then drill the child for comprehension by giving him a list of “comprehension questions.” Since I have “been there,” I can speak from experience when I say that there is NOTHING that will kill a child's love for reading faster than this! Narration, however, is a joy to the child, and takes care of the same thing. Look at this picture of narration in action: Mom reads the latest chapter of Rosalie’s Good Shepherd to the children over lunch. That evening, Mom prompts one of the children with “Luke, tell Dad about what happened today in Rosalie’s Good Shepherd - how Rosalie crept into the church house and heard her first sermon, and gave her heart to Christ.” And the child, eager to share this exciting story with Dad, tells all about it. See how natural this is? And yet it accomplishes the same goal as the dull, boring comprehension questions in such a way that the child does not even realize he is learning… and yet, he has had to rethink the day’s story, process his thoughts in his head, and put into words all that he would have had to write down to answer the list of questions.

Level 3: Copywork
Copywork is the one element of a Charlotte Mason style education that I held off on the longest. Why? It just sounded TOO simple. Like it wasn’t enough, and it just couldn’t do all that it was purported to. It wasn’t until the year I had my sixth child, Jeremiah, that I finally decided to give it a try. I thought that I could use the copywork that year, and spend the next year catching up on what we had missed. What a surprise I was in for! We did our copywork that year, all right, but once I found out how effective it was all by itself, we NEVER went back! Copywork has become such a mainstay in our household, we’ve even written and published two entire series of copywork lessons for different levels, as well as integrating the benefits of copywork into our spelling series, Learning to Spell Through Copywork, our Pictures in Cursive series, and our Language Lessons series. Parents have told us again and again that they would love to use copywork, but are put off by the tedious task of finding something worth copying each day that will give the child practice in mastering a variety of different grammatical application skills. That’s where our two best-selling series, the Copywork for You and the Thematic Copywork Lessons books come in. Each consists of 180 daily lessons, already compiled and arranged for you to use! Read more about copywork on the pages describing our series, where it will be reviewed in more detail.

Level 4: Dictation
Dictation is usually reserved for the high school years, when a child is no longer challenged by copywork. The same material that is used for copywork is instead read aloud to the student, who writes it down, paying attention to the details in where they should place proper capitalization, punctuation, and how to spell properly. Again, as with copywork, the key here is in choosing a wide variety of material to practice different skills, which can be solved by purchasing some of our Thematic Copywork Lessons volumes.

All this and more is expounded upon in much greater detail, complete with examples for different ages, in our book, On Language Arts, which is available as either a book or ebook for just $5.95

Magnificent Math! Word Problems From Everyday Life by Casey and Sandi Queen
"Why do I have to learn math?" "How do you do this again?" "When am I ever going to need to know how to do THIS?"
Every heard these questions from your kids? In real life, the math we use most frequently can be easily displayed in the form of word problems. In this book, you will find word problems for all ages, segregated by concept (addition, addition with regrouping, multiplication, fractions of a number, etc.), for easy application of math concepts to everyday life situations. This is a book you can use for years with all of your children. Non-consumable, its spiral binding make it easy to lie open flat, so your child can do as many as he likes per day. Suggestions for how to use are included. Works with any math program. $9.95

"I can’t believe how effective your "Math Facts for Copywork" is! My son has been struggling with learning his math facts for four years, but now he’s finally got it! Thank you!" - Lisa K.

Math Facts for Copywork by Sandi Queen
Simple, but truly remarkable! Frustrated in trying to get your child to remember math facts when flash cards, computer games, and drill sheets aren’t working? Consider this: each time you drill a child with a set of facts, as he consistently gets the incorrect answer, that wrong answer gets locked in his mind over and over. Why not apply the principles of copywork here as well? Having the child repeatedly copy the CORRECT set of facts locks the correct answer in his mind. Simple, but more effective than any method we have used in the past. Here are the facts, in large size print, laid out systematically, to go along with any math program. Addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division facts are all here for you. Each set of facts is copied over daily until the child can say them correctly from memory - then he moves on to the next set of facts. We have had phenomenal results with this easy-to-implement method of teaching math facts! $9.95

"My little guy had so much fun learning his numbers with your Picture My Numbers! book. Thanks for making such visually engaging books, and for putting them out there in full color." - Julie K.

Similar in style to our best-selling “Printing With Pictures” series, but with a touch of humor, this workbook for young children gives large spaces to write and captivating full color photographs to hold a child’s interest as he learns his numerals from 0 to 9, what each represents, and how to write them. Consumable, $13.95. Also available as an ebook at queenhomeschool.com.
would wish to avoid. In one of the books, a character plays the part of a witch in a “Wizard of Oz” play. In one upper level book, a character is looking for a place to get beer. There is a brief account of flirting by one of the characters in one upper level book, and a few other instances where there is a brief mention of something that our family, as extremely conservative Independent Baptists, would rather avoid.

Thankfully, these are all in upper level books, and we have trained our children to know that these things are unacceptable behavior for Christians according to our convictions. We love this series, and would recommend it; but would also recommend discussing beforehand with your child the possibility of something that could be potentially offensive appearing in a couple of the books. As a Christian parent, this is something we’ve discussed with our kids throughout their lives. We’ve used many books throughout the years, particularly in the science realm, that have had evolution thrown in. In the real world, our children are going to come across things that are offensive to our beliefs as Christians. There may be much merit in those resources, but we have always felt the need to counter that with strong teaching in the Bible, so our kids could discern for themselves what is decent and acceptable and true in light of God’s Word.

That said, all in all, we consider the “Life of Fred” series one of our “best finds” of the year! Take a look at the preview samples on our website. We think you’ll agree! Everything needed for a particular level is included in the listing for that level, below.

The Writer Within: Unlocking Your Child’s Creative Writing Potential by Sandi Queen

If your child (who is reading and is physically able to write) can talk, your child CAN write creatively! His potential just has to be unlocked! This little book holds the KEY to helping you unlock your child’s creative writing potential, no matter what his age. The Writer Within: $4.95 (also available as an ebook at queenhomeschool.com)

My First Pets Phonetic Readers by Sandi Queen

This set of 5 readers is for beginners - the child who is just learning phonics and cannot yet just pick up a book and read it, because most of the words are too hard. But oh, what a confidence-builder it would be if he could... well, now he can! Each of these books focuses on one short vowel sound. The first book, Wags, contains only short "a" words, used in an engaging story about Wags, a Lab, who gets into some trouble in the park. Each book that follows adds a new short vowel sound. If your child can sound out the consonants, and short "a," then he can read the entire book! $9.95 per set of 5 paperback books.

LIFE OF FRED

This IS MATH LIKE YOU’VE NEVER EXPERIENCED IT BEFORE!

The character of Fred Gauss was born on the western slopes of the Siberian mountains. By the end of the series, he is six years old. In his everyday life he first encounters the need for each new part of mathematics, then comes the instruction of those mathematics. Never again will students ask the question, “When are we ever gonna use this stuff?”

Math Facts for Copywork
Looking for an effective way to teach math facts for all ages? This is simple, but the results will astound you! Have you ever become frustrated in trying to teach math facts to a child? Consider our “Learning to Spell Through Copywork” series picks up where your phonics program leaves off, whether you are using our popular “Language Lessons for Little Ones” series for phonics instruction, or some other program. Books A and B review one phonics rule per week, copying over and narrating words that follow that rule, and then copying over sentences using words following that week’s rule throughout the rest of the week. Attention to the spelling of the words is encouraged, as if the child makes a mistake, he must do that entire lesson over again. This WILL encourage strict attention, I can assure you! Directions in the front of each volume explain how to use these books, and copywork in general, to its utmost advantage in your child's education. These books are not for a specific grade level, but are for use whenever your child has mastered basic reading and is ready to move on from phonics. They can also be used for older students who are struggling with spelling, as they review all of the phonics rules. Each book is consumable, which means you will need one for each child. Paperback, $9.95 each.

Nature Lessons for Copywork
As you use copywork and dictation for your language arts program, you will find that it is simple to integrate other subjects just by choosing the correct copywork material. This volume has come by popular request. Selected poems, literature, hymns, Scripture verses, and more - each teaches a lesson on some aspect of God's creation, making it a simple way to integrate nature study into your daily routine. 180 daily lessons are perfect for including in your nature journal as well! Non-consumable, $9.95

“This is a valuable introduction to the various research tools available to any student.” - Homeschool Enrichment magazine

Learning How To Learn by Sandi Queen
Written directly to the student of any age who is ready to begin using reference tools, this book is divided into sections, each focusing on mastering the use of a particular researching tool. Sections begin with an introduction to that particular tool - dictionary, encyclopedia, atlas, concordance, telephone book - and how to use it. There are pages for each section on using that resource to its maximum capabilities.

Consumable, $9.95

Question of the Day Series by Luke & Jeremiah Queen
A course to Enliven Your Child's Natural Curiosity

“BEST SPELLING PROGRAM EVER!!!”
PRINTING WITH PICTURES

By Sandi, Kiley, Casey, and Haley Queen

Having seen the great improvement in using picture study and copywork to teach our own children, the simplicity involved in this program really holds more than meets the eye. Picture study and copywork, properly used to require a standard of perfection, will greatly improve your child’s handwriting if you are attentive to hold them accountable to this standard.

Let me explain how this works...

The beginning part of this book, since it is just introducing and teaching the formation of the letters, is used much like any other handwriting program—the child copies what he sees onto the lines that follow. But we take this a step further in encouraging the child to copy his short, focused lesson, forming his letters perfectly. Having told the child about this standard in advance, he is encouraged to pay perfect attention as he copies his short daily lesson. Only after he checks his work and deems it perfect does he bring it to his parent, who checks it over and looks to see if the standard has been met. If it has not, the parent will gently point out to the child where any errors were made, and have the child erase the lesson completely, and do it over again—the same day. This is painful, for sure; but it is this slight bit of discomfort that really makes the program effective, for the child is encouraged to pay strict attention to every detail of letter formation.

The weekly picture study that corresponds with the lessons (once all of the letters have been learned) also encourages attention to detail, as the child is encouraged every day to look for and point out the object or feature that he is copying as it appears in the photograph. These continued gently forced lessons in attentiveness will benefit your child greatly throughout this book, and in lessons to come—in all subjects.

Consumable, spiral bound. $12.95 each. Also available as ebooks.

Thematic Copywork Lessons Series by Sandi Queen

Daily Copywork or Dictation Exercises for Grades 4-12

All of your copywork lessons, for a whole year, in your choice of themed! Non-consumable; all your child will need is a notebook to write in, and one of these lesson books. Already a bestseller, this series will take care of the hardest part of following Charlotte Mason’s approach to teaching—finding adequate and varied copywork or dictation material. For grades 4-12, these lessons may be used for copywork or dictation exercises. The volume, Math Facts for Copywork, can be used anywhere from first grade and up. Please specify titles—Just $9.95 Each! Choose From:

Copywork for Girls
180 daily lessons just for girls! Sources include Scripture verses, poems, recipes, definitions, literature selections, etiquette rules, quotes from historical figures, and more, all from a conservative Christian perspective. These lessons will help reinforce godly character qualities in your daughters as well.

Copywork for Boys
180 daily lessons similar to the above book, but for boys. Selected writings from our forefathers, godly men of today, etiquette rules for young men, Scripture, poetry, hymns, literature selections, definitions, and more, all chosen to help build character in the boy of this age.

Our Beautiful America
Doing a study on the 50 states, or just feeling patriotic? The 180 daily lessons in this volume are all about this beautiful land we live in, from state to state. Not just your typical “fun facts” collection, this volume takes you on a scenic tour of the USA in writing, as you learn about the interesting and unique scenic elements in each of the states.

Lessons from Leaders
180 inspiring quotes, writings, and more from such great leaders as G. Washington, A. Lincoln, J. Quincy Adams, B. Franklin, T. Edison, G. Bush, T. Jefferson, J. Carter, and more, as well as excerpts from historical documents and interesting tidbits from America’s history, from a Providential perspective.

Great Hymns for Copywork
These 180 daily lessons from classic and historical hymns will not only build character and enhance your child’s walk with the Lord, they will expose him to wonderful songs of praise and thanksgiving from years past.

Verses From the Bible for Copywork
180 daily lessons straight from the King James Bible, these specially chosen verses are grouped by theme—creation, God’s provision, salvation, etc. Large, 11-point font and lay-flat comb binding makes this much easier than copying directly from the Bible itself, and the thematic grouping of the verses will add blessings and insights. $9.95

“Finally! A stress-free handwriting program my kids enjoy!” - Shelly, MD
Copywork for Young Ones Series by Sandi Queen
Daily Copywork lessons for Grades 1-3

These already-compiled volumes of daily copywork lessons for grades 1 - 3 will instill the practice of copywork in your children from the beginning. Written in your choice of themes, these books offer the younger student a large, 24-point font size in a standard manuscript print, as well as having nice, wide lines for the child to copy their work directly under each of the 180 daily lessons, eliminating the need for the younger child who is not yet ready to have to focus and refocus back and forth from the lesson book to a notebook. Because we offer these books in a wide variety of themes, you are free to choose a volume that will hold your child's interest best or meet his individual needs. As always, they are done from a conservative Christian perspective, using only the King James Version of the Bible where Scripture verses are included. Remember, unlike the volumes in our Thematic Copywork Lessons series for older students (on next page), these workbooks are consumable, so you'll need one for each child using them, as they are not reproducible.

Each volume contains 180 daily lessons. Just $9.95 each.

Copywork for Little Girls
Contains a wide variety of practice in copywork just for little girls! Lovely little poems, Scripture verses, literature selections, quotations, and more will teach your little lady character qualities as well as proper punctuation, capitalization, spelling, and usage. Consumable.

Copywork for Little Boys
Teach your little boy important character traits while teaching him proper usage of the English language, including punctuation, capitalization, spelling, and more! Includes selections from literature, poems, Scripture verses, quotations, and more. Consumable.

Lessons in Manners for Copywork
The 180 daily lessons in this volume are actually an etiquette course disguised as copywork! For boys and girls, these are character-building at its best! Consumable.

Pleasant Verses for Copywork
These lessons concentrate on verses of poetry and hymns. Daily selections include lessons on nature, character-building, and just plain enjoyment. Many classic poems included - you're sure to recognize a few favorites from your own childhood! Consumable.

Memorization Verses for Copywork
What an easy way to kill two birds with one stone! Included in the 180 daily lessons in this volume are verses and rhymes to help your child memorize pertinent information needed at this age. Days of the week, months of the year, presidents, books of the Bible, and much more are easily memorized through daily copywork - a surefire, enjoyable way to memorize otherwise dull and tedious sets of facts - along with gaining much-needed practice in daily copywork lessons. Consumable.

Copywork for Animal Lovers
180 lessons all about animals - sure to please every animal-loving child! Literature selections, Scripture verses, and poems, all focused around animals. Consumable.

Pictures in Cursive
Our Pictures in Cursive series contains seven volumes, each based around fine works of art. You may take a peek inside these books on our web site! They are incremental in nature; each book getting a bit more challenging than the last, with slightly smaller writing spaces. Consumable, each book contains 12 weeks' worth of cursive practice, assuming you are doing cursive each day. $12.95 each.

Pictures in Cursive, Book F

“A truly beautiful program!” - Marsha J., via email

“...I purchased your “Pictures in Cursive Primer” for my left handed 7 year old who hates to write too much. I was absolutely amazed - she loves cursive! She is nearly done with the Primer and can fluently read and write most things...” - Rebecca E.

“Bought these for my boys this year ... we love them. I have noticed much improvement in their handwriting and the artwork is wonderful.” - Holly O.

“What a fantastic idea to incorporate the learning and practice of cursive writing with the study of classical works of art!” - Homeschool Enrichment magazine
Words of the Week
A Vocabulary Program Based on Picture Study

This 18 week vocabulary program for grades 4 and up uses full-color picture study to introduce five new words each week. Simple to follow, and taking just minutes per day, your child will easily remember the week's words through the recalling of the photograph chosen to represent those words. Non-consumable, spiral bound. Also available as ebooks at queenhomeschool.com!

“My son began using "Words of the Week” Vol. 1 a few weeks ago. Today, the topic of our relative statures came up...I’m short, my son is not. He said something about me being short, then he paused and, using a jokingly-haughty voice, he said, "Actually mom, you’re diminutive, minuscule, petite, miniature, and compact. However, MY cells are abundant, plentiful, copious, fruitful, and prolific...so I’m tall" LOL!! I’d say your approach to vocabulary is working!" - Dawn, via email

“I have been using the Word of the Week Volume 1 book this school year with my 2 5th graders and my 3rd grader. They have really enjoyed the pictures and learning the meanings of the words. It works well with our routine and it is just what I was looking for.” - Jamie H.

ON COPYWORK
A popular misconception is that copywork is to practice the child's handwriting. Nothing could be further from the truth! In fact, I normally don't even consider my child's handwriting when they are doing copywork lessons (unless they are using our “Pictures in Cursive” handwriting series, which focuses on handwriting). What's it all about, then? Well, when used correctly, copywork is when a child copies over whatever is in front of him, paying close attention to every detail in spelling, punctuation, capitalization, etc. After this, he corrects it himself, until he believes it is perfectly copied. Then, he brings it to the parent to correct. If you find even ONE little error the child is forced to do the entire lesson over again the same day. This is the key to effective copywork lessons! This usually happens only once per child, as the "laziness factor" kicks in after the first time, and no child wants to go through doing it twice in one day again! Thus, the child begins to pay closer attention to every little detail in the material they are copying from. This is why choosing quality copywork material is so essential! While you COULD just pick up a good book and have your child copy from it every day, that alone won't give your child the kind of variety that the carefully chosen lessons in our Copywork for Young Ones and Thematic Copywork Lessons series will. We've done all the work for you! All you need to do is determine which of the series is more appropriate to your child's abilities, and then choose a theme. When a child is older, and is not making many mistakes in his daily copywork lessons (usually in upper junior high or high school), you may use the same volumes of the Thematic Copywork Lessons to give dictation exercises, which is level 4 in the Charlotte Mason approach to the language arts. Dictation is much more difficult, as the child has to maintain the same strict level of perfection in his work, though he cannot look at the lesson to copy it. This is excellent practice for the high school student, though.

“I am absolutely AMAZED at the effectiveness of something as simple as correctly done copywork!” - Devona S.

“Both of my daughters have enjoyed this copywork book! They are short and sweet little verses that are easy to copy and even memorize. I think they are perfect for the age group 6-10. My daughter did and average of 2 a day depending on the length of the copywork. We can wait to get started on the next book!” - Kimberly H., on Copywork for Little Girls
